

Midlands & Northern Rhodesian Ridgeback Club Judging Criteria 2017

RHODESIAN RIDGEBACK BREED COUNCIL OF THE UNITED KINGDOM JUDGING CRITERIA ADOPTED BY ALL
CONSTITUTED CLUBS AND ASSOCIATIONS

Introductory Statement. The Midlands & Northern Rhodesian Ridgeback Club welcomes applications from people wanting to join our Judging Lists. We like them to furnish as much detail as possible about their experience, both with dogs in general and Rhodesian Ridgebacks in particular. We also need to know their depth of experience in showing, breeding, handling or working with dogs generally. Those who have not judged before should not be put off from applying because they do not think their experience is wide enough; we realise people have to start somewhere and we would like them to start with us. We intend to form a vigorous and effective C list of starters who will eventually make their way upward.

It is not our policy to demote people who are already on our lists and we shall use common sense about including overseas judges who cannot always provide the records needed to prove they meet our criteria.

Rhodesian Ridgeback breeders should note that if a club has a Code of Ethics, those who do not observe the Code might be excluded from the Judging Lists of that club.

Quote from the KC Code of Best Practice for Judges -The soliciting of judging appointments is, in the opinion of the Kennel Club, unacceptable. Judges usually receive a first invitation after a minimum period of 5 years of being seen as a successful breeder, exhibitor or handler. The first invitation is likely to be for no more than 3 classes (or 5 for Stud Book Band E Breeds) at a Limited or Open Show. Should anyone be in breach of this criteria or be in breach of a KC regulation which results in a ban, they will be removed from the clubs/council's judging list.

Method of Compilation. The Midlands & Northern Rhodesian Ridgeback Club Judging List is compiled by a judges sub-committee comprising club members, the requisite number of whom are active in Rhodesian Ridgebacks and have previously awarded CC's in the Breed. The method of compilation is as follows:

1. By 1st December each year, nominations for the list are received by the Judging list coordinator, either from members or persons applying independently.
2. Nominations are passed to the Judges sub-committee.
3. Approval for inclusion is determined by secret ballot by the sub-committee.
4. Allocation to a particular list depends on the person meeting the various criteria as agreed by the sub-committee.
5. The list expires on 31st December of the following year.
